

★ Visit www.udetc.org for the latest information on underage drinking. ★

Leadership Institute 101 Classes Now Forming!

This year the Underage Drinking Enforcement Training Center has changed the requirements for applying to the Leadership Institute to help ensure your success. The UDETC will be offering two prerequisite classes that include essential concepts of Leadership Institute and also help participants develop a community and enforcement response to Underage Drinking specifically designed for your community and based in best practices. The two courses are each one day in length. The first is Leadership Dynamics (A-1). This course helps provide familiarization with the concepts of leadership concepts and develop styles of collaborative leadership that will improve your ability to influence and educate decision makers and get results with your team. The second course is Problem solving and Planning (A-2). This course examines the use of enforcement practices and environmental strategies used evidence based environmental and strategies used in planning including how to make sure your strategies are efficient, effective and logical responses to your particular community Partnerships are key to this model: We encourage a law enforcement or justice system professional to take the course with a prevention professional or community coalition leader Through the process of these courses we will help you develop a plan to be approved by OJJDP for entrance into the full Leadership Institute program. The first courses are tentatively scheduled for November 14th and 15th and in Southern California,, January 17th and 18th. In the Southeast, participants may take one or both courses. Please visit the Leadership Institute tab on www.udetc.org and fill out a brief half page application indicating your interest. Online course registration will be available soon on the www.udetc.org website.

OJJDP Releases New Bulletin

The Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention's (OJJDP's) newest bulletin describes the early findings of an evaluation of OJJDP's Enforcing Underage Drinking Laws (EUDL) initiative in five Air Force communities. Authors compare rates of drinking in the five communities to comparison groups and to the Air Force overall.

Reducing Drinking Among Underage Air Force Members in Five Communities highlights findings from an evaluation of five communities' efforts to reduce drinking and associated alcohol-related misconduct among active-duty Air Force members ages 18 to 25, with a focus on underage drinkers (ages 18 to 20). This bulletin is the first in a series on underage drinking that OJJDP created to educate practitioners and policymakers about the problems youth face when they abuse alcohol and to provide evidence-based guidelines to address the issue. The bulletin can be found here on the www.udetc.org site: http://www.udetc.org/documents/EUDL_USAFBulletin.pdf

SUCCESS STORIES: NEW HAMPSHIRE

Not Your Average ID Checker: NH's Liquor Commission Implements the B5000 Document Authenticator Program.

In our high-technology world, with easy access to the Internet, fake identification cards have become more advanced and difficult to detect by the naked eye. In 2011, the New Hampshire's Bureau of Enforcement developed and initiated the B5000 Document Authenticator program. The program is designed to evaluate and verify several types of identification forensically. The B5000 is used to create and maintain a fraudulent identification database that is shared by law enforcement agencies, and it assists with identifying manufacturing trends in fraudulent identification which supports the prevention of youth access to alcohol. This story shares how a State uses innovative strategies and developed positive relationships in reducing underage drinking.

NATIONAL ELECTRONIC SEMINARS

OCTOBER 2011

Meaningfully Engaging Law Enforcement in Coalition Efforts

Date: Thursday, October 20, 2011

Time: 3:00-4:15 p.m. ET

Speakers: Diane Riibe, Project Extra Mile and Sergeant Scott

Friedlein, Champaign, Illinois Police Department

As a coalition, have you experienced the challenge of engaging your law enforcement partners in a meaningful way? Or perhaps you are a law enforcement officer and are wondering what your role might be with a local coalition? Join us as we discuss the keys to engaging and sustaining a successful partnership between coalitions and law enforcement. You will learn the "do's and don'ts", the culture, and some of the best practices as we hear from successful community and enforcement practitioners.

Visit www.udetc.org/audioconfregistration.asp to register.

To print a copy of this month's Resource Alert visit:

www.udetc.org/documents/ResourceAlerts/ResourceAlert1011.pdf

Did you Know? You can easily find more about EUDL efforts in your state or territory, by contacting your EUDL Coordinator through our website: www.udetc.org? Simply click on the State Contact tab on the left side of your screen for quick and comprehensive contact information for all Coordinators and UDETC staff members that will be more than happy to assist you in helping keep our Nation's youth safe from the dangers of underage alcohol consumption and enforcement of the underage drinking laws.

Not Your Average ID Checker: New Hampshire's State Liquor Commission Implements the B5000 Document Authenticator Program

In our fast moving high-technology world, access to fraudulent identification cards is easy and cheap. With improvements in technology and the Internet, fake identification cards have become much more advanced and more difficult to detect by the naked eye. In fact, New Hampshire's Division of Liquor Enforcement initiated a major case that involved the prosecution and conviction of a manufacturer who profited more than $10,000 per month in fraudulent identification distribution throughout several jurisdictions. This major case was prosecuted with the assistance of the Massachusetts Alcoholic Beverage Control Commission, Homeland Security, and the Massachusetts State Police. Understanding that further progress was needed in battling New Hampshire's fraudulent identification card problem, they used EUDL funds to tackle and put a dent in this challenging problem. In 2011, the New Hampshire's Bureau of Enforcement developed and initiated the B5000 Document Authenticator program.

The program was designed to evaluate and verify several types of identification forensically, including licenses and passports. The B5000 is used to create and maintain a fraudulent identification database that is shared by law enforcement agencies, and it assists with identifying trends in fraudulent identification manufacturing, which supports the prevention of youth access to alcohol. This advanced tool has several features and benefits that help New Hampshire develop collaborative relationships with and implement support of law enforcement agencies, community coalitions, and retailers in preventing underage drinking. New Hampshire's State Liquor Commission shared the tool and availability with other State agencies, and soon after hearing about its availability, they were asked to present the tool and its benefits to the New Hampshire United States Attorney General's Office Identity Theft Task Force (composed of Federal, State, and local officers.) The New Hampshire State Liquor Commission plans to present the program and the B5000 to the State Attorney General's office and anticipates more opportunities to share the tool and the program.

The benefits of this B5000 program follow:

- Enables you to perform security checks in just seconds accurately and automatically.
- Checks many layers of security: presence/absence of holograms, ink type, etc.
- Consults a large, localized library (that supports more than 1,000 types of ID cards, including both national and international IDs) to check authenticity.
- Records information to support development of a database that saves and prints these records to share with law enforcement, retailers, and communities.
- Overcomes human limitations, such as fatigue, in validating documents, and the system's simplicity and automation mean minimal training is required.

Because of these benefits, the B5000 program is being used in New Hampshire's special investigator units and can be efficiently implemented. The program is being implemented at college bars, beginning with students' return to campus, and it is useful when partnering with retailers in high-risk areas. The program also supports the investigators' work with retailers in identifying fake identifications, creating a proactive environment in preventing youth access to alcohol. success story shares how a State can use innovative strategies that show collaborative efforts in reducing underage drinking. New Hampshire has used technology to support and develop positive relationships with its other law enforcement agencies, retailers, and judicial partners.

For additional information contact:

Ms. Johanna Houman, EUDL Coordinator

Phone: (603) 271-7820;

E-Mail: Johanna.Houman@doj.nh.gov

Chief Eddie Edwards, Director, Division of Enforcement and

Licensing

Phone: Office (603) 271-3521

E-Mail: eedwards@liquor.state.nh.us

The views expressed in this document do not necessarily represent the views of the Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention (OJJDP) or the Underage Drinking Enforcement Training Center (UDETC) and are solely of the author/source.

11720 Beltsville Drive, Suite 900, Calverton, MD 20705. Phone: 877-335-1287. Fax: 301-755-2808

National Electronic Seminars Enforcing Underage Drinking Laws Program

The OJJDP Audio-TELECONFERENCE Series

2011 National Electronic Seminars Calendar

October 20, 2011 3:00 - 4:15 p.m. Eastern Time

Meaningfully Engaging Law Enforcement in Coalition Efforts

As a coalition, have you experienced the challenge of engaging your law enforcement partners in a meaningful way? Perhaps you are a law enforcement officer and are wondering what your role might be with a local coalition. Join us as we discuss the keys to engaging and sustaining a successful partnership between coalitions and law enforcement. We will learn the "do's and don'ts", the culture, and some of the best practices as we hear from successful community and enforcement practitioners.

November 17, 2011

3:00 - 4:15 p.m. Eastern Time

Alcohol and Crime

How many crimes are committed in this country where alcohol is a causal factor? If you are a cop on the street you don't have to be a scientist to figure that out. Cops know the answer based on experience; it's a huge percentage, However, in a world where science is fact how do we really prove it. In the spring of 2005, the Wyoming Association of Sheriffs and Chiefs of Police received grant funding from the Wyoming Department of Transportation – Highway Safety Program to collect and evaluate alcohol-related arrest data in ten counties in Wyoming for a period of six months. Although it had long been suspected that alcohol was a factor in a large number of custodial arrests in Wyoming, reliable data had not been available previously to more accurately determine the scope and impact of alcohol on crime in Wyoming. This pilot project was initiated with the expressed purpose of formulating effective enforcement strategies aimed at reducing the number of alcohol related crimes and traffic crashes in Wyoming. The data collection process has continued since 2005, has been refined and was expanded to include data collection in all twenty-three counties of Wyoming in 2006. The collection of data was then extended to a full twelve-month period in 2008. We've invited a well respected researcher in the field of criminal justice in Wyoming to discuss his conclusions of the study and what strategies are underway to inform Wyoming communities of the results and what communities can do to reduce alcohol related crime.

December 15, 2011

3:00 - 4:15 p.m. Eastern Time

Adult-supervised Alcohol Use and Harmful Consequences among American and Australian Teens

We've all heard the arguments from parents that "it's safer for kids to drink alcohol at home under adult supervision," and "what's the harm as long as I take their keys?" Is there merit to these arguments? Although harm-minimization perspectives contend that youth drinking in adult-supervised settings is protective against future harmful use, a recent study has found that adult supervised drinking of youth in both Australia and the U.S. resulted in higher levels of harmful alcohol use a year later at age 15. Presenters will provide an overview of how to use "prevention science" findings on risk and protective factors for youth alcohol use, discuss research findings, and share ideas on how the research may be strategically used to advance EUDL work, as well as specific examples of research to practice applications by practitioners.

We want to hear from you!

Do you have an Underage Drinking Topic that would make a great National Electronic Seminar? Send us your suggestions at udetc@udetc.org and put 'NES Topic Suggestion' in the subject line!

For audio-conference registration information, please visit www.udetc.org

All programs provide opportunities for presentation, discussion, and sharing information. Telephone dial-in instructions and accompanying materials will be mailed to registrants two weeks before the audio conference.

To register for any of these free electronic seminars by phone, call toll-free 1-877-335-1287 extension 230

Enforcing Underage Drinking Laws Program

TOPIC

Meaningfully Engaging Law Enforcement in Coalition Efforts

As a coalition, have you experienced the challenge of engaging your law enforcement partners in a meaningful way? Perhaps you are a law enforcement officer and are wondering what your role might be with a local coalition. Join us as we discuss the keys to engaging and sustaining a successful partnership between coalitions and law enforcement. We will learn the "do's and don'ts", the culture, and some of the best practices as we hear from successful community and enforcement practitioners.

DATE

October 20, 2011

TIME

3:00-4:15 p.m. ET

PRESENTERS

Presenter 1:

Diane Riibe, Project Extra Mile, Omaha, Nebraska diane@projectextramile.org

Presenter 2:

Sergeant Scott Friedlein, Champaign, Illinois Police Department safriedlein@gmail.com

REGISTER

Please register by using one of our automated options:

- To register on our website, please visit www.udetc.org and complete the online registration form, or
- To register by phone, please call our toll-free number, 1-877-335-1287, extension 230, and follow the prompts.

Telephone dial-in instructions and accompanying materials for the audio conference will be mailed one (1) week before the call.