April National Electronic Seminar

Parties on Wheels: Responding to the Enforcement Challenges of "Booze Buses"

Date: Thursday, April 22, 2010

Time: 3:00-4:15 p.m., Eastern Time

Speakers: Corporal Todd Walker, Baltimore, MD; Trooper First Class Robert Iman, Linthicum Heights, MD and Chief Eddie Edwards, Concord, NH

In some college communities "booze buses" sponsored by alcohol establishments corral underage drinkers from college dorms taking them to and from the downtown bars under the thin guise of a "safe ride" program. Elsewhere buses, aided by viral marketing, pick up high school and college age youth in suburban parking lots to take them to certain downtown bars where they will be served. Join us to learn how police and communities are working together to enforce underage drinking laws and handle the challenges that "booze buses" pose.

Did You Know?

That last year during the NLC Youth track, the youth hosted their first Youth talent show? There were skits, PSA clips, musicians, songwriters and many talented youth from across the country sharing their underage drinking prevention messages.

In evaluations adult attendees shared their interest in seeing more of these talented youth, so this year we are responding by kicking off the Conference with a Welcome Networking Reception and Youth Talent Show! (Wednesday, August 18, 2010 6-8 pm.)

So... reach out to your youth involved in their community and schools' underage drinking prevention efforts and invite them to share their talents i.e. singing, dramatic skits, spoken word and other talents. Youth participants must be 14-17 years old and a conference attendee. The talent must be relevant to the prevention of underage drinking and limited to no more than 5 minutes in length. Enter soon - limited slots are available. All interested youth should contact Mary Gordon: 301 755-2752 or Gordon@pire.org by May 31, 2010.
